David Rodriguez, Bexar County Extension Agent-Horticulture, presents Dr. Jerry Parsons, Retired Professor & Extension Horticulture from Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service. Dr. Parsons will be speaking on Satsuma Mandarin oranges which are great for the landscape or patio garden. Satsuma fruit are of superb quality and nearly completely seedless and are also ideally adapted to regions with winters too cold for other citrus fruit but with growing seasons warm enough to produce fruit of early maturity and good quality. Both will be able to answer any questions on these wonderful fruits that are currently growing in Bexar County area.
