6. Take roll call. Start contest as soon as possible but do not rush contestants.
7. Introduce the judges and recognize leaders, coaches and visitors. Try to put the contestants at ease. Do not rush. This event is important to 4-H members. We must help them to feel secure in their contest so they can do the best job with their demonstration. Remember, the time for setup and take down for Share-The-Fun is 4 minutes total, and 6 minutes for the performance.
8. Ask who needs to compete first due to another conflict and then set-up the rest of the judging order accordingly. This will also be denoted on your folder for your contest room.
  - (a) Have each judge complete a score sheet for each contestant with constructive comments.
  - (b) Judges are not required to fill out scores - they will rank. Judges do need to make comments. (Review scorecard). The score sheets will be returned to tabulation and agents must pick up their packet at the end of the day.
  - (c) Complete copy of the Judges Report Sheet and be sure it is signed by all judges. One copy you will keep to read the results, the other will be turned in at the headquarters room with the score sheets.
  - (d) Compile information for each contest in the following order and paper clip:
    - Judges Report Form (2 copies)
    - Score Sheets grouped by contestant
  - (e) Leave contest room and area straight and dispose of anything left by contestants.

9. Check in at the contest headquarters so we'll know you have completed your contests and turn in your results.
10. Announcements to make:
  - (a) No score/comment sheets will be returned to participants at the contest.
  - (b) Urge participants to leave contest area clean and take all equipment to car when they have completed the contest.
  - (c) Remind all contestants that there is an official photo area at the entrance for everyone to get their photo taken with their award.
11. The awards for all contests will be given in the contest rooms. Please plan to stay and present your awards for your contest room.

Thanks for your help. We hope you will make suggestions for improving the contests next year.

Agents: Please do not send this letter to parents until we have finalized the schedule for the day – All times are tentative until we receive all registrations and have confirmed the number of youth in the contest rooms!
